The Legend of Rosemary

With all Good Wishes for Christmas and
The New Year

Dear Mrs Masmitth when I saw his card I thought of you and little Rosemary. I send best wishes by you all and shall be thinking of Toronto on Christmas Day.

The Legend of Rosemary

ROSEMARY is the token of remembrance. At Christmas it may well serve to remind us of perhaps the prettiest story that is attached to its name. For the old legend runs that when Our Lord was a tiny baby His Mother, after washing his swaddling clothes, hung them to dry upon a bush. The bush immediately blossomed and gave off its delicate smell which perfumed the baby's clothes. That is why the flower is blue and the name enshrines Our Lady's remembrance.

The Light that never dims nor fades
That shone within the Christmas Star Surround you with its hope and cheer
And guide your footsteps near and far !
